

Michael Walker is the CEO of CI<sup>3</sup> Advantage, LLC a Service-Disabled, Veteran-Owned Small Business that drives innovation through the delivery of competitive intelligence products and services, and the efficient provision of mission-critical information through web-based, analytical tools. Specifically, the company provides the following tools and services to help its clients achieve their mission:

- Analytical tools and methods to track knowledge diffusion, value the quality of knowledge created, and evaluate the economic impact of government-funded technologies; and
- Competitive intelligence tools to help government agencies meet their mission.

Prior to CI<sup>3</sup>, Mr. Walker was the CEO of Ocean Tomo Federal Services, an intellectual property consulting firm. Mr. Walker is a former United States Air Force decorated combat pilot and was selected by NASA to fly pathfinder missions for the Space Shuttles.

Mr. Walker has twenty years of experience and expertise in the field of science and technology. In addition to being the CEO of CI<sup>3</sup>, he is currently a member of the United States Air Force Reserves, serving as a project manager and key advisor to the Chairman (3-star equivalent) of the Air Force Scientific Advisory Board (“SAB”). As project manager for the SAB, Lt. Col. Walker facilitates studies which impact $2 billion in science and technology programs on cutting edge technological issues—e.g., Operationalizing Space Launch and Technology Options for Improved Air Vehicle Fuel Efficiency, and manages studies of first impression—e.g., Networking to Enable Coalition Operations and Domain Integration.

Mr. Walker is a current, and prior, director of numerous corporate and government entities. He sits on the Board of Directors for the District of Columbia’s Emerging Technology Consortium and is a former member of the Board of Directors for the Air Force Academy Society of Washington. He is also a member of the Washington D.C. Chamber of Commerce and the Veterans’ Entrepreneurship Task Force. Mr. Walker also serves on the Washington D.C. Department of Small and Local Business Development’s Development Industry Advisory Council. He also served on District of Columbia Councilmember-at-large Kwame Brown’s Local, Small and Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (“LSDBE”) Development and Equity Participation Task Force. Mr. Walker earned a Bachelor of Science degree from the United States Air Force Academy.